Library for Health Information

We are the consumer health branch of The Ohio State University Health Sciences Library. Our goal is to:

- Provide reliable health information that you can understand.
- Support the education and communication you have with your doctor and health care team. You should always talk with your doctor and health care team about your care needs and treatment choices.

Our services

We help patrons find valid information on any health topic. You may visit the library and browse. Or you can call or e-mail a request for health information to be sent to you within the hospital or by mail at no charge.

Library services include:

- A professional librarian and volunteer staff who are experts at finding valid health information that is trustworthy and easy to understand.
- A large collection of pamphlets, brochures, books, DVDs, and handouts on health topics.
- Health information books that can be borrowed.
- Leisure reading materials.
- Access to computers, a copier, and a fax machine.

Contact us!

You may visit the library, or call or e-mail us a request for health information.

Visit: We are located in University Hospital’s 5th Floor Atrium at:
410 W. 10th Avenue
Columbus, OH 43210
(Take Rhodes Hall or Doan Hall elevators to the 5th floor.)

Call: 614-293-3707

E-mail: health-info@osu.edu

Library hours

The library is open Monday through Friday, except for University holidays.
Call for hours.